

TeamQ Report

Team-Q was developed for self and peer assessment of an individual's teamwork skills. It is designed for undergraduate education as a practical method for assessing teamwork as a learning outcome. The following describes teamwork behaviors, with students report on a five point scale how often their peers (and self) demonstrate each of the behaviors (Never, Sometimes, Usually, Regularly, Always).

TeamQ Ratings Radar

Below is a radar chart that presents the results of your teammates rating of your abilities and your own ratings of your abilities. The ratings of your teammates have been averaged together for ease of comparison.

Suggestions to Improve

Part of the TeamQ was to “Write one specific, actionable goal to help your teammate improve their teamwork competency”. Presented below are the goals you wrote for yourself, followed by the goals your teammates wrote for you.

Feedback	Comment
others	Continue to be your awesome contributing self you have great ideas keep on sharing them do not be shy
others	Mairi is very encouraging and always makes sure that others opinions are heard and respected She is a great team member to work with gets her work done on time is productive and flexible She has been a pleasure to work with and get to know this year
others	Keep doing what you re doing and you ll become a great OT It was pleasure making a friend and working with you as a team member I will cherish all the memories from our projects including the groups theory assignments that we have worked together on throughout the last semester Additionally I will carry all the lessons that I have learnt from you and our team and incorporate them into my future OT practice Thanks for being awesome
others	Mairi I think you re an awesome team member Loved working with you this year If I could suggest to you 1 piece of constructive feedback I would say to be more confident in being you You have such a unique set of strengths Caring compassionate down to earth great listener artistic and your mind is always finding new ways to think and look at problems You have been such a valuable part of this team and I think you are going to make a great OT
others	Mairi was our energizer and constant contributor She was really good at validating others thoughts and ideas and adding to the direction of the group I would love to work with her in any group setting She is both fun and efficient
