

TeamQ Report

Team-Q was developed for self and peer assessment of an individual's teamwork skills. It is designed for undergraduate education as a practical method for assessing teamwork as a learning outcome. The following describes teamwork behaviors, with students report on a five point scale how often their peers (and self) demonstrate each of the behaviors (Never, Sometimes, Usually, Regularly, Always).

TeamQ Ratings Radar

Below is a radar chart that presents the results of your teammates rating of your abilities and your own ratings of your abilities. The ratings of your teammates have been averaged together for ease of comparison.

Suggestions to Improve

Part of the TeamQ was to “Write one specific, actionable goal to help your teammate improve their teamwork competency”. Presented below are the goals you wrote for yourself, followed by the goals your teammates wrote for you.

Feedback	Comment
others	Continue to be your awesome persevering self you have great contributions to the group
others	Keep doing what you re doing and you ll become a great OT It was pleasure making a friend and working with you as a team member I will cherish all the memories from our projects including the groups theory assignments that we have worked together on throughout the last semester Additionally I will carry all the lessons that I have learnt from you and our team and incorporate them into my future OT practice Thanks for being awesome
others	Becks You have been a very compassionate humble and loving team member If I could give you any feedback it would be to keep doing the things that scare you or make you uncomfortable I have seen you grow so much this year by putting yourself out there and doing the things that didn t always make you feel at ease You have been such a pleasure to work with this year and I think as you keep challenging yourself to greater and scarier things you will make an excellent OT
others	Rebekah you always contributed thoughtfully to group projects listened to other s opinions and maintained a harmonious work environment
others	She has fantastic work ethic Always on time always taking notes always completing tasks to her full potential She doesn t have many areas for improvement
