

TeamQ Report

Team-Q was developed for self and peer assessment of an individual's teamwork skills. It is designed for undergraduate education as a practical method for assessing teamwork as a learning outcome. The following describes teamwork behaviors, with students report on a five point scale how often their peers (and self) demonstrate each of the behaviors (Never, Sometimes, Usually, Regularly, Always).

TeamQ Ratings Radar

Below is a radar chart that presents the results of your teammates rating of your abilities and your own ratings of your abilities. The ratings of your teammates have been averaged together for ease of comparison.

Suggestions to Improve

Part of the TeamQ was to “Write one specific, actionable goal to help your teammate improve their teamwork competency”. Presented below are the goals you wrote for yourself, followed by the goals your teammates wrote for you.

| others | Thank you for always taking the initiative to look through the assignments do the formatting and submit our projects You always go above and beyond to ensure that our work is 100 before handing anything in Thanks for always making sure we are well nourished with those sour keys |
| others | Michelle is a great team member She is a hard worker who always puts in her fair share of work and then some She brings with her thoughtful ideas and is supportive of all members ideas |
| others | Michelle is an incredible group mate and an intelligent human being She was always ready to accomplish work to the highest quality coming prepared with more material than we needed to group meetings and willing to take on large portions of work even when she did not have to Working as a group session leader alongside Michelle was such a great experience for me because we were able to split our roles and use our strengths to our advantage but also compliment each other in order to cover our weaknesses Specifically I find that Michelle is naturally more reserved with her thoughts and opinions whereas I am more forward so she taught me to listen more and speak less and in turn I hope I encouraged her to speak since she has so many wonderful things to say I aspire to work as hard and as diligently as Michelle does when completing work and hope that she continues to offer her thoughts and ideas even more continues to be supportive and respectful and doubts her ability to lead less It s not that I ever noticed she doubted herself but if she ever does I just hope she knows how wonderful she is and how much she has grown as a team mate and a leader |
